The Exploding Universe of Ed Kuepper ...

who heads our way with a brand new band this March!!! Kuepper and his Exploding Universe cohorts plan to roll out the classics that haven't been aired live for far too long ... delving right back to Saints' territory & beyond! Does this suggest oeuvres from the Laughing Clowns? Electrical Storm? Black Ticket Day? ... yes! Yes!! Yes!!!

Says Ed: "The great thing about this band is being able to play just about anything I've ever recorded, such as Real Wild Life, King of Vice, Theme from Mad Flies amongst others that were hard to do solo. It'll simply be a much different show" he grins.

Armed with an awesome set list and travelling as a 4-piece for the first time in a decade this tour's tipped to cause quite a stir.

Ed's universe explodes with the valiant talents of -

Alex Compton - bass John Gauci - keyboards & Dave Astin - drumming

Dates will be confirmed shortly ...

"... a fascinating and inventive record ...
veteran fans will love it;
newcomers could do
worse than start here"

Meanwhile, as Out-takes, Castaways, Pirate Women and Takeaways hits the UK - we're hearing the initial rumblings coming down the wire of his universe exploding as far as UK & Europe - "What? Kuepper has a 4-piece? When? Where? How?".

The word's out ... as is Today Wonder!

At long last Today Wonder ("the most effective entry point to Kuepper's kingdom" - London Times) is set for re-issue: expanded & remastered! From March & on this less-is-more 10-track opus boasts liner notes & tops the 78-minute mark with 8 bonus tracks taken from a previously unreleased live session that was recorded & broadcast by Dutch National Radio during the Today Wonder European tour in the Northern autumn of 1991.
